Frequently Asked Question

Q. What is lightweight backpacking and why do it?

A. Lightweight backpacking is essentially hiking with a lightweight pack instead of the “traditional” way of backpacking that suggests images of trudging along with a crushing load on one’s back while wearing large and awkward boots. So, lightweight backpacking is the practice of carrying lighter weight and less equipment. This will enhance your outdoor experience by allowing you to focus more on what’s around you and less on the burden of your pack. It will also help you to travel faster, be more mobile and safer. Our backpacking method reduces the stress and strain on your body, your risk of injury, and your environmental impact.

Q. What are we going to be doing?

A. When you arrive, you will be spending the night at Lake Logan at our primitive outdoor school. Here you will learn such things as how to use the equipment we provide, how to cook on the trail, how to stay warm and dry, outdoor hygiene, basic first aid, alpine tower climbing, and much more! Then the whole group will head out on the trail for a few days to hone in your new skills. As if spending a few days trekking through the mountains isn’t awesome enough, rock climbing and whitewater rafting day trips are also a part of the CHOS wilderness experience!

Q. Do I have to climb if I’m scared of heights?

A. Nope. First, CHOS operates under a philosophy called “challenge by choice.” This recognizes that we all have different comfort levels and different skill levels in any given activity. So, we ask you to challenge yourself and to encourage others. Secondly, it’s a good and natural thing to have at least some fear of heights; almost everyone does.

Q. What is expected of me in terms of my abilities and fitness?

A. Attitude is everything. Well... mostly everything. You will need to be able to put on a 25ish pound pack and hike a few miles. In other words, if you hate physical activity, this might not be for you. But if you keep a good attitude, everything should work out just fine.

You are in for the time of your life. Have a great CHOS session!

Camp Henry Outdoor School Packing List

Much of what makes lightweight back packing possible is paying VERY close attention to what you bring. CHOS partners with Mast General Store in providing most of the equipment you will need. We are trying to teach everyone a consistent way of packing, you may bring your own gear if you wish, however our staff might ask that you leave it behind if it doesn't fit in with our program. Examples might include, gear that is too big or too heavy, rain jackets that aren't actually waterproof, shelters, tents and so on. Otherwise please follow this list closely and feel free to give us a call if you have any questions.

Trail Items

2 pairs of synthetic (non-cotton) hiking shorts

2 synthetic (non-cotton) t-shirts

At least 3 pairs of synthetic (non-cotton) underwear

2 sports-bras, if applicable (non-cotton)

1 long underwear top and bottom (non-cotton)

At least 2-3 pair of light hiking socks (yep, you guessed it, non-cotton)

1 pair of hiking boots/shoes (if you are purchasing a new pair of boots for your summer trip it is, STRONGLY ADVISED, that they are broken in too help prevent your chance of foot injuries, such as blisters)

1 pair of shoes or sandals (with ankle strap) that you don't mind getting wet and dirty during our rafting trip. (Crocs and similar sandals are a great base camp shoe, however the chances of them staying on your feet during our whitewater rafting trip are slim!)

L.E.D. Headlamp w/ extra batteries

2 durable water bottles, At least 1 liter in size

A few gallon and quart sized Ziploc bags

Feminine hygiene products, if applicable

1 travel sized toothbrush/toothpaste

1 small bottle of insect repellent

1 small bottle of sunscreen

1 bandana

Base Camp Items (not necessary to take on trail)

- At least 2 sets of comfortable base camp clothes (cotton is acceptable)
- 1 deodorant
- Shampoo and soap

- 1 towel
- 1 duffle bag or suitcase to store your belongings while we're on trail

Optional Items

- Hat/Sunglasses (do NOT bring anything that shouldn't get dirty or can't handle wilderness travel)
- A book (remember that this is a lightweight program, and you will be carrying this, so maybe don't bring your hardback copy of War & Peace)
- 1 small pocket knife (please let CHOS staff know at check-in if you choose to bring one, we will hold it for you and administer them at a time when their use is appropriate.)
- A small camera (disposables may be a thing of the past, but they're mighty convenient on trail if/when they are lost or damaged, leave your DSLR's at home)

Weather dependent, but we might have a very buggy summer! That means flies, mosquitoes and ticks. Here are some precautions that the CHOS staff will be implementing on trail and some suggestions for you as a camper and hiker.

- Have your bug spray, this doesn't guarantee you won't get bit but it will deter bugs while on trail and at basecamp.
- Tall socks! (unique designs and funky colors are recommended), if you want to take extra precautions long pants and/or long sleeves are hot, but will protect you.
- Check for ticks daily, as CHOS staff we are very avid hikers and we check all the time! Removing ticks appropriately is nothing new to us!
- Stay on trail! We always abide by this rule, as it is a Leave No Trace ethic!
- Most, not all, of our hiking will be done at elevations above 3500ft, which are not ideal conditions for bugs!
